

Bowmanville man killed, two injured on 35 north

A 20 year old Bowmanville man was killed and a passenger in the car he was driving was seriously injured when their vehicle struck a steel guide rail about 3 a.m. today while travelling on Highway 35 about one-half mile south of the Buttermilk Falls bridge in Haliburton County.

Dead is David Anderson of Bowmanville.
Raymond Hopkins, 17, of Bowmanville, is in fair condition at Lindsay RMH with leg injuries.

A second passenger, Robert Hilditch, 18, also of Bowmanville, received cuts and bruises but was taken to hospital.

Minden OPP said the car was southbound on Highway 35 north of Minden, when it crossed to the northbound lane and onto the east shoulder where it struck the guard rail. Police said the steel guard rail pierced the car.

The 1974 compact car valued at $2,000, was virtually a write-off. Cpl. Terry Sneddon and Constable Mike Hickey of the Minden OPP investigated the mishap.

The body is at the Morris Funeral Chapel, Bowmanville. Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Bicycle tour passes through Haliburton Village

On Wednesday, August 20, there were 88 bicycles which passed through the Village of Haliburton on a bicycle tour in connection with the Cycle Canada "76" Project. The group is hoping to travel from Toronto to Ottawa in 14 days and they ride an average of 50 miles a day. While going through Haliburton County the cyclists camped at the Blue Haven Campsite at Minden on the Tuesday night and then on Wednesday night last they stayed at the Bancroft Tent and Trailer Park. They will return to Toronto by a more southern route.

This bicycle tour is in preparation for a bigger tour next year to take place all across Canada, focusing in Montreal for the 1976 Olympics.

Rt. Hon. Roland Michener will visit Haliburton

The Rt. Hon. Roland Michener will be participating in the Ontario Orienteering Championships to be held at the Boy Scouts Reserve, Haliburton on Saturday, September 27 and Sunday, September 28.

Although it is a championship event and top orienteers from all over Canada and the U.S. will be competing, a special novice course is being organized where people who have never orienteered before will be able to receive instruction and orienteer at their leisure.

This event will provide Haliburton residents - both permanent and seasonal - with a great opportunity to try this rapidly-growing sport, to get out into the woods and enjoy the fall colours, and also to meet a truly great Canadian.

The Rt. Hon. Roland Michener has never orienteered before, however we are confident that he will complete the novice course without difficulty. Mr. Michener had advised that his wife may accompany him. It is hoped that Haliburton families will follow Mr. Michener's example and try this exciting sport.

Orienteering is a recreational activity which can be enjoyed by people of all ages and all levels of fitness. It is a great family activity. It is a sport which involves using a map and a compass to navigate your way to pre-determined points (call 'control locations') in unknown terrain.

The skills of orienteering are skills which are very important and necessary to anyone interested in canoeing, hunting, hiking, camping, cross-country skiing, and other similar activities which make use of our natural wilderness areas. These orienteering skills are as vital to safety and enjoyment of the outdoors as are water-safety skills, and the best way to develop these navigational skills is through the sport of orienteering. Come out and try it on September 27 and 28.

Along the trails

by Roy Bates

Varying opinions have been expressed regarding the volume of tourist business this summer. My observation, as one employed in the industry here, is that there are as many visitors in the area as usual, perhaps more, and that those lodges offering good food and accommodations at affordable rates are doing well.

One thing we know for sure. In a few weeks the bonanza will be over. In a few more many lodges will be closed, not to re-open until June. Their operators, after taking care of annual up-keep and minor improvements will find that by Spring this summer's healthy profits have dwindled away until they are back to square one.

Not all of them. A few owners have discovered a way to ease the burden of winter overhead. Their doors are opened again in December to welcome increasing numbers of winter tourists. True, they have not found instant wealth, but they do meet mortgage payments and they do keep people working. And they may rest assured that as facilities are improved for the enjoyment of winter so will the number of paying visitors be increased.

Not very far away are two summer resort areas where the winter tourist business has out-stripped July and August. Lodges and Motels in Dwight and Port Sydney are already booked full, in some cases to twenty percent above normal capacity, from December through March. Haliburton operators ought not to be preparing their lures to catch the overflow. Don't wait for Spring! Think snow! Do it now! The snowmobilers are coming! Skiers, too!

For a glimpse of the attractions of the Haliburton Highlands as seen through the eyes of a visiting snowmobiler just read the following unsolicited testimonial.

A word about the author. Carl Nieman hails from Buffalo, N.Y. where he operates a heating and ventilating business. Introduced to motor-cycling by his sons, he uses that vehicle as a means of seeing more of his great country, and of ours. The bike is fine, for summertime and as far as the roads go, but how do you sample the wonders of the wilderness with limited time? For Carl Nieman, winter, and the snowmobile became the answer. Carl neglected to put a title on his story so I shall pick a random phrase and call it: PERFECTION IN SNOW by Carl Nieman

A weekend motorcycle ride last August led me to the Pine Lodge in Port Sydney. A conversation with Bill Clarke, the owner and host of that friendly little inn, suggested that I speak with a certain Bob Palmer, of Dwight, when I inquired about the possibility of an extended snowmobile trip. I accepted the advice and that was the beginning of a weekend snowmobile adventure which will have no end:

With Bob's suggestions and help we contacted several people who sent us trail maps and information necessary for our plans, and on March 6th my son, David and two of our friends, Brad Nieman and Mike Moist left Buffalo with four snowmobiles on our trailers and headed up the Q.E.W. for what we hoped would be a pleasant 300 mile snowmobile ride that weekend. Our expectations were high but we never anticipated the perfection that was to come.

We arrived in Port Sydney early Thursday evening and spent the night at the Pine Lodge which was to be our starting and finishing point. A call to Bob Palmer informed us that he had been ill but would try to ride with us for part of the way. Further along the trails we were to meet Roy Bates, our contact at Haliburton.

Early Friday morning after a hearty breakfast of juice, porridge, eggs and bacon we were on our way. Down the road and onto Mary Lake, our sleds seemed to leap over the bank of snow along the highway and spring across the lake toward the winding trail leading up the hill and into the bush.

It was about 25 degrees and cloudy with a flake or two of snow in the air as we picked up trail No.

2 of the Hill and Gully Riders system of groomed trails. It was a smooth trail, and fast. We had to resist squeezing the throttle to hard.

We travelled east and then north to Holiday Haven on Peninsula Lake where Bob was waiting for us. After a warm greeting and a brief introduction we fell in line behind Bob's Ski-Whiz across the lake, the portages and then east and north again across the upper end of the Lake of Bays to Dwight.

After a quick phone call (everything he does is quick) Bob informed us that coffee was brewing up the trail away. We soon found our sleds gliding along the Lobo Trail toward Oxtongue Lake. The trails were in good condition and it was east to see that Bob knew the way. Over hills and around curves, there was just too much to see in this beautiful country.

Before we realized that the miles had passed we stopped at the Blue Spruce Inn on Oxtongue Lake and had again the pleasure of enjoying warm Canadian hospitality with Joan and Jack Hayden.

Forty-five miles had slid beneath our sleds and it was time to gas up. After the fuel stop Bob and Jack witnessed our signing in on the Oxtongue-Dorset trail and wished us well as they left us on our own, on one of the most perfectly groomed trails I have ever ridden.

From Dorset we swung eastward along Hollow River and onto Kawagama Lake where the Old Mill Marina and Fred Baum were waiting to serve us. More gas and more directions and we headed down the lake toward the Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve where we would pick up our next escort.

The snow was falling heavily by this time and the shoreline was vague. We ran past the portage to Slipper Lake but soon corrected our course, and as we revved the engines to climb the steep grades in the woods, glad that we were riding snowmobiles rather than carrying a canoe and gear. Stocking Lake, Kennisis River, Kelly Lake and then the Cookhouse at Wildlife base camp. It was 2:30 in the afternoon and snowing hard. Did that Chili taste good!

Our odometer read 82 miles when Roy Bates led us away from the friendly confines of the dining room and into the beautiful snow drenched pin and birch woodlands of Haliburton County.

Easterly to Redstone and Guilford Lake and then south on the trail cutting across Moose Lake to Harburn. The country was vast and wonderful. Every curve and every hill enticed us with glimpses of beauty and strength that can only be found in the depths of nature.

But enough of nature, we were to be at the Wig-A-Mog Inn by seven o'clock for a steak dinner! Roy assured us that we had plenty of time and he was right. We even had time to be refreshed at the great Canadian Legion Post in Haliburton. The welcome of people in this area was again very evident.

After more than 100 miles through bush and over lakes a couple of sleds got stuck -- crossing a sidewalk! On to Kashagawigamog Lake and our steak dinner. 114 miles the first day through heavy snow and new territory. The Inn was delightful. The steak was good, the accommodations superb and the pool table very long. Those side pockets sure are narrow.

Roy left us at the Inn and said he would be over about 9 in the morning to ride with us on Saturday. About 11:30 we crawled into our very comfortable beds, tired but thrilled with the experience of the day.

Chamber names new Secretary-manager

Robert Stinson, a former Toronto businessman whose great-grandfather operated the historic Stinson Mill at Minden, is the new secretary-manager of the Haliburton Highlands Chamber of Commerce.

In announcing Mr. Stinson's appointment early this week, Chamber of Commerce president Bill Foote, said Mr. Stinson would commence his new duties September 2. The decision to hire Mr. Stinson was made at a meeting last Thursday evening of the chamber's board of directors.

Born in Toronto the 42 year-old secretary-manager brings a broad background of business experience to his new position. Vice president of the Stinson Lumber Company in Toronto until the firm was sold, Bob Stinson became a part-owner of Willow Beach Cottages and moved permanently to the Highlands two years ago.

Currently employed at Wentworth Marina, he has served on the Board of Directors of the Lake Kashagawigamog Resort Owners Association and is Vice-President of the Haliburton Minor Hockey Association.

Last January he was the co-ordinator of the first annual Atom Hockey Tournament held in Haliburton.

Together with his wife Joan and their five children, Bob lives on the shores of Lake Kashagawigamog.

For Bob his return to Haliburton two years ago was like coming home. His father Tom was born in Minden, his grandfather Arthur ran the Minden livery stable while great-grandfather Fred ran the mill on the site of the present Minden power dam. Then, too, throughout youth and adult life his home away from home was always the family cottage on Gull Lake.

In commenting on his new position Mr. Stinson referred to a recent Provincial Tourism Brochure that totally omitted the Highlands of Haliburton. "If I can just get us back on the map I'll feel I've made a worthwhile start", he said.

Festacolour '75

Plans are still underway for Festacolour '75 which is sponsored by the Rotary Club of Haliburton and will be held here on Saturday, September 27th.

Heading this year's annual event will be Gordie Tapp of Hee Haw Fame with music supplied by the versatile Peter Randell and his band as well as the colourful LaVerne Country Dancers.

Coming back again this year by popular demand is Ed Gyurki who has been old time fiddle champion at Shelburne for several years.

Special attention should be mentioned of the ever popular Horse Drawing contest which will be held at the Fairgrounds on Saturday evening under the lights starting at 6:30 p.m.

Festacolour '75 will have everything from a Beer Garden to a giant band tattoo.

Mark the date on your calendar and plan to attend Festacolour-75 on September 27th.

Hundreds attend the Minden Fair

Minden County Fair has a special flair this year. The Parade led by the Haliburton Highland Pipers was excellent especially as it had so many horses in it. Winners in this were:-

Pony or ponies attached to vehicle, Grant Lake and son of Coboconk.

Saddle horse, Gary Rutherford, Fenelon Falls, John McKenzie, Carnarvon.

General Purpose Team and vehicle, C.H. McIntosh, Lorne Kent and Ron Little, all of Minden.

Best decorated bicycle or tricycle, Lisa McCloskey, Tony McCloskey, and Tim Pritchard.

Child's novelty costume, Jeanne Jarrett, Minden,

Claudia Jellett, Carnarvon. Commercial Entry, Rob-Mar Beauty Salon.

Organization Float - Skating Club, Boy Scouts, and Haliburton Highlands Majorettes, Haliburton.

Clowns - Lesleigh Cushing and Katie Clarke both of Carnarvon.

During the Opening Ceremonies Fred Wright was awarded a certificate by M.P. Bill Scott, as "Citizen of the Day"; this honour is not given often. Fred is accepting stated "That he had attended Minden Fair for 65 years and had been a member for 54 years." Much of this time he served as a Director and still going strong.

Another special event new this year was selection of the Fair Princesses with winners being Kathy Kinsman, Mary Lou Johnstone, Belinda MacDonald and Bronwin Jowett. These young ladies were attractively gowned and showed us what talented young people we have in our Country.

Senior Citizen award for eldest lady went to Eleanor Walker, 89 and eldest gentleman to Ed Fielding 88. These were just two of the familiar faces we see at our Fair, but many more came and had a good visit with old friends.

The Amateur Contest had many and varied entries. Winners 14 and under were Glen Warburton and his fiddle, Sharlene Dennys and Paula Booth (tied for second) and Louis Reynolds. The Senior Class had as winners Ellen Abernethy, Joyce Booth and Curtis Gartshore. The talent shown here must not be passed over lightly either as all the contestants in both classes were excellent and the audience was very attentive throughout.

The youngsters and others in the audience had much fun watching the Frog Jumping Contest, which came at intervals both Saturday and Sunday with frogs of all sizes, doing everything but jump at times. Winner overall was Joanne Penny with a frog jumping 18".

This year the livestock had new quarters with room for cattle, pigs and sheep in the covered sheds and displays here were excellent.

The exhibits in the Fair Building were extensive and everything here was shown with skill. We saw several squash and pumpkins there, which you had to see to believe and the flowers were so colourful as no frost had come this year so far. There were also exhibits in the Arena, the School Exhibits were excellent, well-displayed over a large space and we have great amateur photographers. Here also the Department of Environment and Hydro had their exhibit. All well worth the time to take a look.

Something else new was when Hubert Klein, up on his registered half-arab Mai-Kho presented the many forms of dressage. This was in the Horse Ring and the crowd gathered around to watch attentively as he went through his display ending with some jumping. Altogether something new for some of the audience to see.

Must not miss the Stage Show with George Hamilton the 4th and his group and the Magician Dickie Dann and his lovely wife. The former group also entertained at the Dance at the Arena on Saturday night at which was a very appreciative audience.

The Minden Agricultural Society are to be congratulated for their effort in staging their Fall Fair so successfully which at one time on Sunday afternoon looked like it might have been rained out.

It's time for the Kinmount Fair

All roads this weekend will lead to the Kinmount Fair when this annual event takes place this coming Saturday and Sunday, August 30 - 31.

The Kinmount Fair is one of the best in Ontario and each year it draws thousands of people to its many splendid attractions.

The Fair which is spearheaded by Bill Scott our local M.P. and which is backed by a strong executive and a lot of willing workers each year, try to make the Fair just a little bit better.

This year on both Saturday and Sunday the fair will feature Grand Ole Opry Star Hank Snow, the all time great country and western star also featuring Rosemary Atkins.

This is just one big feature of the Kinmount Fair, there are many more. Why not treat yourself to two days of great fun and excitement at this outstanding fair.

Let's see the Results

In recent issues of some weekly newspapers we receive each week we have noticed write ups from various other areas telling of the Lakes and Rivers in the district that have been tested for pollution. The results were printed in these papers.

In Haliburton County it seems to be like pulling teeth to get any kind of a report from the local Health Unit on the condition of our local Lakes and Rivers.

During the past two weeks several people in Haliburton have been quite worried on the condition of Head Lake in Haliburton. They cannot understand why the results of tests taken by the local Health Unit have never been published.

We would like to see a report on all the lakes in the Highlands of Haliburton published in this paper.

If a Lake is polluted then we should know about it, if not then lets hear about it. Why should people be swimming in areas of polluted water. The signs should read "No Swimming, This Lake is Polluted".

If a body of water in a certain area reveals test of pollution it's about time that the local Health Authorities see to it that the cause is remedied.

Letters to the editor

Dear Editor:-

I always read your paper and always enjoy your "Letter to the Editor" section; but never in my life read anything that seems so selfish and narrow minded as Mr. G.W. Benner, Toronto, sounded. In his letter he complains about everything that is good. I notice he wants no good Highways, he wants only small cottages. I can only take from this he wants no friends visiting with him. He speaks against pollution and we all know these small cottages are a major factor to pollution, because of the poor septic systems. Mr. Benner seems to think we don't want any cottagers. This statement I have never heard except by Mr. Benner's own statement in the paper, and I'm sure that if the rest of the cottagers were like Mr. Benner, feeling the way he does about our County, we would be better not to have any cottagers on the Council.

My people came originally to this County over one hundred years ago, they hacked and cleared land to get this county in the condition it is in today. I agree we don't need 4 lane highways leading into Haliburton, ruining the scenery and landscaping; but we do need industry and we intend to have some industry, because I don't see any reason for our young folks to have to leave here and go to the city to work; when Mr. Benner himself escapes the city whenever he can to come for a vacation. Our local Government has listened to the likes of Mr. Benner too long, and this has kept Haliburton County in a depressed state for much to long now.

Mr. Benner, I suggest you buy yourself a hundred acres of wilderness, seeing as your not in favour of highways, you could make yourself some dune buggy trails and enjoy life. If this doesn't work to your liking why not buy in the Yukon where it is undeveloped as yet.

Mr. Benner if you want further conversation with me personally, I live on Bethel Church Road off 121 highway, you will find me quite willing to accomodate you with a conversation any time.

Yours truly,
Bruce Nesbitt

Dear Sir:-

Attached please find a letter received from the Ministry of Industry and Tourism, written by Frederick J. Boyer, Executive Director, Division of Tourism, on instruction from the Honorable Wm. Davis, Premier of Ontario. I wish to bring to your attention particularly the first paragraph of the letter in which he gives the reason for omitting any reference to the Highlands of Haliburton.

The brochure should never have been called "The Traveller's Encyclopaedia". The work encyclopaedia means a comprehensive summary of Knowledge, or a published work devoted to a certain specific field, the field in this case pertains to Tourism throughout the Province. And the work comprehensive means complete or full. How then can they call the book an encyclopaedia when they neglected to even mention the largest, most magnificent and picturesque tourist area in the entire Province, a land teaming with wild life, a land with hundreds of sparkling lakes and streams, a land of rugged hills and dense forests, all waiting for the vacationist to come and enjoy its beauties and breathe in the pure evergreen scented air.

All this can be had by a short drive from the smog covered huge urban areas of Toronto, Hamilton, Niagara, Oshawa etc.

But did our Province mention this glorious land in their latest tourist guide? Not one word.

The livelihood of the people of the Highlands depends almost entirely on the tourist industry. We, the people have been dealt a severe financial blow by our Provincial Government and they give us their excuse - "There was no room in the inn", the inn in this case being the Government Brochure on Tourism.

Yours truly,
Walter Noice

Dear Mr. Noice:

Mr. Davis has asked me to comment on your letter to the Editor of the Haliburton County Echo of August 7, 1975, dealing with the absence of the Haliburton Highlands in our recent publication "The Traveller's Encyclopaedia of Ontario". I can well understand your concern that the Haliburton Highlands were not specifically mentioned. However, I am sure you understand that we cannot list all of the regions in Ontario in one publication.

It is our intent to mention those communities by specific tourist attractions. We reply upon the new Travel Associations to assist us in this selection. Unfortunately at the time the "Encyclopaedia" was being written, the Central Ontario Travel Association was not organized sufficiently to accomplish this.

We will certainly consider the Haliburton Highlands in our next revision of this publication and appreciate your bringing this matter to our attention. In addition, I should note the Haliburton Highlands are mentioned in many of our other publications specifically those which deal with outdoor recreation and resorts.

Thank you for your interest in Ontario's tourism promotion program.

Sincerely,
Frederick J. Boyer,

Dear Sir:-

You have known me all my life as being an outdoorsman, Hunting, Camp Owner, Fisherman and Guide. I live in Huntsville, but my heart is always in West Guilford and Haliburton.

I am going to describe a canoe trip I just completed recently, and if you consider it news for your paper you could re word it properly and print it, if not just discard it, I will understand. As you know Bill Boice was my grandfather, Isaac Boice my great grandfather, Rex Boice and Bert Boice my uncles, they were all trappers. I always wanted to travel the route they used to go, on leaving Grass Lake at the homestead, and travelling North into the park to their trapping ground. Jim Bennett, a Mill Sawyer who works for me accompanied me on the trip. My son drove us to Magnetawan Lake approx. 20 miles north of Kearney, Ontario and we set out for an 8 day trip. Across Magnetawan through Hambone Lake, into Daissy Lake, down the Petawawa River to Little Misty Lake to Big Misty where my grandfather trapped when he was 16 years old, around 100 years ago. Down Misty and once again on the Petawawa River many miles to Grassy Bay in White Trout Lake long paddle to Otterslide Creek next to big Otterslide, Little Otterslide, Burnt Island Lake, Baby Joe Lake, Little Joe Lake, Big Joe Lake. Canoe Lake, across Highway 60 down Smoke Lake, Ragged Lake, Big Porcupine Lake. Bonechere Lake, McGarvey Lake, Loaders Lake, three unnamed Lakes, down Gibson's Creek to Boundary Lake. Out of the Park into Wildcat Lake then Rock Lake, Johnston Lake, Island Lake, Mink Lake, Havelock Lake, stayed at my camp for a rest, on to 2nd North Lake, Kelly Lake then Kennensis Lake the soals pond, Lippy Lake, Horn Lake, Bear Lake, Mud Lake, Carried to the Redstone River, one of the main waterways in the trapper's day, must of lifted over 25 trees on the way to Grass Lake, on up to West Guilford to the head of Pine Lake, where once again my son picked us up, making the trip in 7 days. Losing one day for rain. What a difference, instead of 50 lb. of flour and a bunch of traps, we had freeze dried food which is very light and a 40 lb. canoe I bought last year. I didn't mention where we camped each night, but by the measured portages it is approx. 95 miles and there are 50 portages on the trip plus the rivers.

It was a real thrill for me to make the whole trip, I enjoyed every minute of it. The only wildlife we saw was 1 cow moose and 1 small beaver thats how things go down hill when there not cropped off. As I said before if this is not in your line for news, I will understand, just thought it might be of interest to a lot of readers.

Let me know please,
Murray W. Scott

Our Pic of the Past this week shows the first power dam at Minden, Ontario. It was constructed by the Orillia Water and Power Commission. This power dam which was well constructed has also served as a great attraction for the visitors who visit the Village of Minden. Our thanks go out to Walter Harrison of Fenelon Falls for submitting this photo.

The snows of yesteryear

Bill Smiley

A FRIEND brought to my notice a news story the day. He wanted my opinion of its contents.

The story was headed: Former War Prisoners Hold Prairie Reunion. It stated that more than 500 former prisoners of war from Britain, the United States and Canada gathered at Moose Jaw recently for a 30th reunion.

The rest of the story was a little nauseating. The reunion was held in "an atmosphere not unlike the prison camps they survived in war-time." There was barbed wire, a bazooka, two machine-guns, a German flag, people dressed up in German uniforms, and caricatures of war-time officers.

I gave my reaction to my friend: "A bunch of middle-aged boys clinging to the only real thing that ever happened to them."

That sounds harsh, at first glance, if it's possible to glance at something and hear it. But it satisfied my friend. "It's incredible," he said. "I too would like to see some of my old friends from prison camp, but to talk, not to play games."

I agreed. I would like to see some of my old friends from prison camp. For about half an hour. Not for a three-day reunion, with wives tagging along.

And perhaps this is why I don't attend the annual reunion of former prisoners-of-war, though I am invited every year.

And I guess I'm not the only one. There were 500 at this reunion, from three countries. Where are all the others? There were 10,000 airmen in the camp I was in, only one of many.

A couple of other items emerged from the news story. Guess where the chaps were entertained? In the officers' mess at Moose Jaw.

Secondly, it was the first reunion of POWs in 30 years to be held outside Toronto.

What does this suggest? To me, a little clique of Toronto-based ex-officers who have kept the thing going, for who knows what adolescent satisfaction.

Whatever you may have heard or read elsewhere, prisoners of war who were officers didn't suffer all that much. I know. I was there.

We were not required to work in factories or mines or on farms as were "other ranks." I know of no Canadian officer who starved to death, though grub was mighty slim in the last few months.

Perhaps one in 1,000 was beaten up for some misdemeanor. I was one of them, and it was my own fault.

It was no bed of roses, and I don't minimize the skill and daring of those who tried to escape, but, looking back, it was all juvenile and Boy Scoutish: lookouts, secret passwords, disguises, caving-in tunnels, interminable planning, and end results about as dramatic as one degree Celsius.

There was suffering, of course, but it was not beatings and torture and starvation, not for Canadians. It was not physical, but psychological.

As far as military discipline went, most of the bodies had far more freedom than they had had on their units. But there was the simple fact that you were in jail, and somebody would shoot you if you tried to get out (quite the opposite to modern Canadian jails).

And there was the great feeling of waste, of knowing that the best years of your life were going down the drain, while other young men were kissing girls and drinking beer and staying up all night and doing all the other foolish things young men do.

There was boredom and monotony and stagnation and frustration and a little lurking fear that the latrine rumors might be true — that Hitler had ordered the SS to eliminate all P.O.W.s when Germany faced ultimate defeat.

But there were compensations. There was a tremendous sense of oneness against the enemy. There was the fascinating meeting of different ideas and cultures, a great and almost immediate education in itself.

Throw into one room the following: a young actor from the London stage, a kid from a prairie farm, a Glasgow toughie, a Dublin hooligan, an Australian sheep farmer, a Welsh poet, a Rhodesian schoolboy, a Norwegian rail-worker. That's a bare sample.

Toss in an American from California and a West Indian singing calypsos and a Belgian bookmaker and a Polish count and a few other assorted odds and sods, and you had a typical group — at least in my camp.

I wonder where they all are? Most of them, certainly, are a long way from Moose Jaw and a small group from Toronto whose members can afford to fly to a convention and try to recapture something that is gone forever.

For the same reason, I have stopped going to reunions of old fighter pilots. I went to a couple. Enjoyed them. But there is a tendency to maudlinism, exaggeration and downright lying about long-gone days. These pot-bellied, bald, wife-ridden, right-leaning, class-conscious, middle-aged poops are my old comrades? No way.

My memories of prison camp and fighter-piloting are far more fun than meeting some red-faced paunch who roars over the noise from the bar: "Hey, yeah! Aren't you Jack? Jack Wiley? Yeah! We were at Sagan together. (I was at Barth). Wancha tameet the wife."

All "the wife" wants is, not to meet me, but to be sure that George is on his feet for the final evening's ball, at which she will peer, with her sad, crumpled 50-year old face, at all the other sad, crumpled 50-year old ladies and wonder what the hell the kids are up to while she's hoofing it up in Moose Jaw.

I told a little of this to my friend. He understood. He was a German officer with Rommel, badly wounded in North Africa, spent three years in a U.S. prison camp, and is now a Canadian citizen.

Where are the snows of yesteryear?

Housing continues to be a major problem in Ontario and Canada. Not enough new units are being built to meet the demand and many that are built are too expensive for the average wage earner. Recent statistics issued by the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation show that urban Ontario is falling behind the rest of the country.

In the first three months of this year, housing starts in Ontario were down 58% compared to the same period last year. This is 16% below the rest of Canada.

In addition, the Ontario Council of the Housing and Urban Development Association of Canada predicted that home building activity in this Province will drop to 60,000 new units. This prediction, from the people who build the homes, falls 40% short of the annual level which the Housing Ministry claims is necessary to meet new demand.

Agencies and groups directly involved in housing agree that the basic problem in the housing crisis is a lack of serviced land. The Financial Post observed recently: "To ensure lower priced houses it is essential for government to undertake a massive water and sewage installation programme — without these facilities, orderly growth and the production of serviced land at reasonable prices is not possible".

The Ontario Government now owns more than 100,000 acres of land across the Province. A programme should be undertaken now to service this land for houses. It should include some measures to cut the red tape which seriously delays production. The fact that subdivision plans in Ontario must go through 45 different agencies before anything is built speaks for itself.

Davis Guarantees No More Changes In Regional Gov't

TORONTO — Premier William Davis has guaranteed Ontario's municipal leaders that there will be no further restructuring of local governments by the provincial government.

In a letter sent to 681 Reeves, Deputy Reeves, and County Councillors across the province, Davis noted that there has been continuing interest about the Ontario government's attitude toward new regional governments in the province.

He said:

"Perhaps the simplest and most direct way for me to deal with this matter is to quote from the statement which I made to the Association of Municipalities of Ontario on the 6th of August of this year. On that occasion, having spoken of certain of the benefits resulting from regional governments where established and noting the interest shown by people in other parts of Canada, the United States and abroad about regional government in Ontario, I went on to say:

"On the other hand, and this I reaffirm without equivocation, there is no intention to extend regional government or government restructuring any further except where there is a voluntary process undertaken in a particular area. Anyone who states otherwise is clearly trying to deceive people for his own particular ends. We are determined to strengthen local government with greater powers and with more resources to the extent that our resources makes possible."

"I trust that this will set the record straight," he said in his letter to the municipal officials.

The Premier's assurance reflects the approach taken in the County Restructuring Studies Program whereby the provincial government shares with counties and their associated cities and towns the cost of a local government study where the local governments themselves request one.

A cardinal principle of the program, announced in 1973 by Hon. John White, then Minister of Treasury, Economics and Inter-Governmental Affairs, is that the recommendations of an independent commissioner's study will be implemented only if there is a consensus in favour of such action among the local governments involved.

Introduction of the current program, which has drawn a favourable response — from Ontario municipalities, signalled the end of an era in regard to the Government of Ontario's approach to local government reorganization.

During the previous two decades, the provincial government had moved actively to revise a municipal system that had stood relatively unaltered since the Baldwin Act of 1849 and to produce 12 regional governments across the province. The Municipality of Metro Toronto was established as North America's first full-fledged metropolitan government in 1954; others followed in Ottawa-Carleton, Niagara, Peel, Halton, Thunder Bay, York, Hamilton-Wentworth, Muskoka, Durham, Haldiman-Norfolk and Sudbury.

The advent of regional government was, above all, a response to the growing pressures of industrialization and urbanization which had put tremendous strain on the existing municipal structure. There simply were too many small municipal units — in 1966, half of Ontario's 900-odd municipalities had fewer than 2,000 inhabitants — struggling to deal with problems within artificial boundaries and a fragmented decision-making process.

"No one would try to convince you that with restructuring of local government all of the problems have disappeared," said Provincial Treasurer Darcy McKeough in an April, 1975, review of regional government. "Hopefully we have a system of priority-setting and responsibility that can deal in an orderly way with a wide variety of inter-related but very complex problems and issues."

With the major task of constructing 12 regional governments completed, the Davis government adopted a different attitude toward possible restructuring of the remainder of the province where populations were sparser, the urban element less dominant, and such problems as environmental pollution and urban sprawl much less urgent.

Currently, more than 10 counties have initiated studies under the CRSP program with the province agreeing to co-sponsor the work of an independent commissioner. The District of Parry Sound is expecting its report shortly, while Northumberland County has a December, 1975, completion date for its study. The Counties of Bruce, Dufferin, Elgin, Essex, Haliburton, Lanark, Prescott and Russell, Renfrew and Victoria all expect to receive their reports sometime in 1976.

Thus, the process of reshaping local government to meet the needs of the second half of the 20th century has itself adjusted to changing circumstances. But the overall goal of the Government of Ontario remains much as it was stated some years ago by Sam Clasky, former Director of the Regional Planning Branch:

"The Government of Ontario believes that the main way in which we can preserve and strengthen our local community governments is by giving them more to do. In practice, this means giving local governments more responsibility to make decisions. But in order that local governments can exercise their powers effectively they must be organized rationally."

"In other words, by making local government stronger in terms of size, population and finances, we are setting the stage for a major program of decentralization of political power in this province."

A fiesta fruit salad plate is always an "original" recipe because you choose the combination of fruits in season.

Show Off Fresh Fruits In Salads!

Fiesta Fruit Salad Plate

For each serving:

- Leaf lettuce
- 1/2 inch slice head lettuce
- Fresh fruit medley, chilled
- Pecan pieces (optional)
- Fresh mint
- 1/4 c. dressing — (selected dressing 1 or 2)

Fresh Fruit Medley

Combine any of the following Ontario fruits — peach slices, pear cubes, halved grapes, whole raspberries, chopped apple, plum halves, muskmelon balls.

Brush pear and apple pieces with lemon juice to prevent darkening. To the fruits, add a few pecan pieces. Line the outer edges of each plate with leaf lettuce. Centre it with slice of head lettuce. Heap fruits on top of lettuce slice. Dribble with one of the dressings and garnish with mint. Serve immediately. Pass rest of dressing.

1) Fluffy Cream Dressing:
Mix 1 c. mayonnaise and 1/2 c. whipped cream.

2) Ginger Cream Dressing:
Combine 1 c. of sour cream, 1 tbsp. liquid honey, 2 tbsps. candied or preserved ginger, diced finely. Allow flavors to blend a few hours or overnight in refrigerator.

When summer comes and thoughts turn to picnics, save your used quart and two-quart plastic coated milk cartons. Fill them with water, freeze them and pack them in the picnic cooler.

Marg Osburne, television star of the CBC series "Don Messers Jubilee", will headline the entertainment under the Massey-Ferguson "Big Top" at the International, Canadian and World Plowing matches, being held near Oshawa Sept. 23 - 27th. Also appearing will be Elmer Hohl, four-time world horseshoe pitching champion, who returns to the Massey display for the third year in a row.

Shows will be held each afternoon, alternating between Marg Osburne and Elmer Hohl. Outside the tent, the Massey balloon, piloted by professional balloonists, will be giving sky rides to lucky visitors to the MF display.

Another feature of the display, the largest in the company's history, will be a service information center, staffed by experts in repair and maintenance of farm machinery, selection of equipment, and financing. They will be available each day to answer questions by visitors.

Also on hand at the display will be MF sales personnel and dealers to show visitors the complete line of twelve tractors built by MF, all four combines, farm machinery accessories, farm implements, lawn and garden tractors, snowmobiles and four models of the MF line of industrial backhoe loaders. Speciality products, such as the distinctive MF caps, jackets, and the new line of Massey chain saws, will also be on display.

Remember when

General merchants often claim, rather proudly, 'if we don't have it, you don't need it' and nothing could have been more truly said of the general stores that have served Haliburton. The general store was an early fixture in settlement communities for it dispensed the materials - food staples, hardware and dry goods - that the settler craved and needed, and also provided a retail outlet for local farm produce. Very often a post office and general store were all that was needed to make a rural center and a name on the map. But no matter what size the town, the general merchant's shop was the rallying point of the community.

In 1858 the Noice family came to Minden from their farm between Sinclair and Stratford. Edward, who was 9 years old at this time, later became a Minden merchant. His store on mainstreet was burnt down in 1889 in a village fire. It was rebuilt on the site of the present Stedman's department store.

In the 80's and 90's when Mr. Noice operated his store, supplies came in by horse and wagon from the Gelert train station. Towns people, like Mr. Ireland whose delivery of one ton of flour is recorded in Mr. Noice's daybook, were hired to haul the store's merchandise. The trip to Gelert took 1 1/2 hours which meant the hauler had to be up at 4 a.m. in order to meet the train at 6. All staples - flour, sugar, tea - came in large quantities; flour was sold by the hundred weight.

Mr. Walter Noice has made several interesting comparisons (between the prices listed in his father's day book and modern prices) that point out the effect of inflation in today's economy. In 1893, a suit of men's clothes sold for $6., a pair of boots for $1.50. In October 1893 the Dept. of Public Works bought 6 pounds of tea, 34 pound of sugar, 45 pounds of bacon, 10 pounds of raisins, 2 pounds of currants, 10 pounds of cheese, 1 tin of mustard, 20 1/2 pounds of butter and 15 pounds of beans for $17.24. In 1973, the Minden I.G.A., would fill the same order for $113.74.

Mr. Noice sold his store to Mr. H.E.T. Soward. Many remember Mr. Soward's store and Mr. Hartle's store, where Mark Vasey's office is now, and the friendly competition that continued for many years between them. On September 19, 1902, the following lengthy ads appeared side-by-side on the front of the Minden Echo:

Referee Instructors' Seminar in Kitchener

On April 25th, 1974, William McMurtry was commissioned by the Province of Ontario to conduct an 'Investigation and Inquiry into Violence in Amateur Hockey'.

What is being done re

'Violence in Hockey?'

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association (C.A.H.A.) has expanded the National Coaches' Certification Program (N.R.C.P.) and the National Referees' Certification Program (N.R.C.

P.). Bob Nadin, the newly Appointed referee-in-chief for the C.A.H.A. will assist the various provinces with the implementation of the N.R.C.P.

The objectives of the N.R.C.P. are the following:

- to standardize the methods and techniques of officiating in both the two and three man system.

- to improve the quality of officiating in Canada.

- to motivate individuals to become involved in officiating.

In Kitchener, August 15, 16, 17, Ontario outlined its NRCP plans at the first annual 'Ontario Referee Instructors' Seminar'. Don Robb, invited 70 instructors and executives from the various branches and associations throughout the Province (OHA* OMHA* ODHA* TBAHA* MTHL* NOHA) to finalize instructions for the scheduled referee clinics in the Fall. To date, 150 clinics have been organized with an involvement of approximately 6,000 referees.

The clinics are designed to provide information re rules and officiating for coaches, spectators, players; not only the referees. All referees involved in hockey at any level provincially will be carefully evaluated and certified at these clinics.

Since the major emphasis of both the National Coaches' Certification Program and the National Referees' Certification Program is on the establishment of acceptable behaviour for the participants in hockey, the long range result should be very positive in all aspects of the game.

Haliburton News Letter

The Lake Kashagawigamog Tourist Association have come out recently with a beautiful brochure in colour with a splendid map of the Lake Kashagawigamog Area. It's 23 miles of Accommodation service and entertainment. All the Association members are listed in the brochure. It's well worth your while to pick one up and you will see that this is just one of the many projects underway from this active group.

It might be noted here that the Rotary Club of Peterborough made a profit of $17,000. on their Cadillac Draw. That's not bad.

This coming Saturday and Sunday, August 30th, and 31st will be the annual Kinmount Fair (One of the best small town fairs in Ontario). It will feature both Saturday and Sunday Grand Ole Opry Star Hank Snow the alltime great country and western star. Along with Hank will be that great singing sensation Rosemary Atkins. This Fair has something for everyone and it's the show where you get your money's worth. There will be plenty of action and excitement at this years Kinmount Fair.

A new highlight in the life of the Lindsay Kinsmen Band was recently attained when the Band received their first stereo long play recording. The long-play record has recently been released and is available as a permanent keepsake to be enjoyed by band music lovers. The record of the band was cut some months ago at an all day session at the Academy Theatre and is presented in its own attractive black and white jacket cover designed by Jane Quibell and Dan Gehman. The Lindsay Kinsmen Band is well known in the Haliburton County area having been here at various parades from time to time.

During the Great Depression, unemployment mounted in urban areas until at its peak in the beginning of 1933, approximately one out of every two wage earners were out of work.

One house being moved from the Pickering airport site to a new location on Scugog Island won't be lived in anymore... It fell apart on the way to its new site. Ivan Pollard of Lindsay the man who moves houses and has never lost one yet says he is glad he can't take credit for the mess which littered the Scugog Island Regional Road 7 within about a mile of the home's destination.

Demure Tours are reminding the residents of Wilberforce, Tory Hill, Gooderham, Kinmount and Burnt River areas that the bus will operate to and from Lindsay on Tuesdays and Fridays after September 8th.

Once again its the Fabulous Hawaiian Luau this coming Sunday, August 31st, 1975 at Wig-A-Mog featuring Dick Smith and The Syncona, direct from Ontario Place. 4:30 p.m. Reception, 5:30 p.m. Luau, 7:00 p.m. dancing. It's $25.00 per couple, includes reception. Reservations only 457-2000.

St. Joseph Island is located about 25 miles east of the Soo. This large island is just inside the Canadian border and only the width of the channel from Neebish Island on the Michigan side. On this Island you can see the remains of Fort St. Joseph, an historic site that will some day find its rightful place in the history of Canada.

Spectacular events will await you when the Rotary Club of Haliburton hold their Festacolour at Haliburton on September 27th.

McLaughlin discusses NDP issues in election campaign

HELP - stands for the broad issues which I would like to bring to the fore in this election campaign. H - housing, E - energy, L - land, P - people.

H - Because of almost total reliance on the private sector to build houses in Ontario housing starts are falling behind housing needs at a rate of over 40,000 units a year. The houses being built now are far beyond the means of the working man. Unless Ontario votes in a New Democratic government there is no hope to overcome the housing shortage. The NDP would implement a program to provide low cost housing for the working man.

E - The federal budget, under the Liberal government, told the Canadian people quite bluntly to pay up and let the corporations get on with their profit making. Their involvement in the tar sands of Alberta is one of the greatest rip-offs of the Canadian consumer surpassing the Canadian Pacific Railway historically documented use of public funds to build a corporate empire for the private elite. An NDP Energy Ministry would take full responsibility for planning energy use. Energy decisions would be made for public benefit - lower prices, more secure supplies, regional development - rather than private profits.

L - These are lean times for Ontario's farm community. Every hour of every day 26 acres of farmland go out of production. The NDP is determined to reverse these trends. The first step in stabilizing farming must be to halt the disastrous depletion of farm land. NDP land-use planning would ensure that land suitable for agriculture is protected. Because the farm community should not be expected to bear the full cost of preserving land for agriculture, consideration would be given to compensating farmers for expectations lost. To encourage preservation of the family farm, farm families must be guaranteed sufficient income to meet the costs of production and ensure adequate returns for labour and investment. Specific NDP programmes to foster, protect and develop the rural lifestyle would be developed in conjunction with representative farm people. Land is a non-renewable resource. Yet it has been treated by the Ontario government as a limitless commodity to be auctioned to the highest bidder. As a result of such short sighted policies, some of our finest agricultural land has passed into the hands of speculators. The goals of an NDP government would be to ensure that our food, minerals, timber, housing and recreational pursuits are in harmony with one another. In consultation with local communities, the NDP would develop a provincial land-use strategy which would assign development priorities to various classes of land. Ontario has sufficient land resources for all its needs. Ontario New Democrats want to see them husbanded wisely in the interests of our children.

P - People are the most important element in all the programs of the NDP. A New Democratic government will be dedicated, as now, to the needs, aspirations and dignity of the individual.

I will be dealing with the above issues in a more comprehensive manner as the campaign progresses as I promised prior to the announcement of the election. I know that the people of Victoria-Haliburton will be armed with all the facts to make their decision on Sept 18 in favor of the NDP.

Hydro says proposed rates not inflationary

Ontario Hydro's proposed 25 per cent rate increase will not add significantly to inflation in Ontario, Hydro's Chairman, Robert B. Taylor told the Ontario Energy Board in Toronto on Thursday.

"All we do is pass on the cost," said the Hydro Chairman. The hearing was told that it is not only Hydro policy to pass on the costs but is also the law. The publicly-owned utility was conceived on the principle of providing electric power at cost.

Electricity is not all that expensive when you compare it to other things, said Mr. Taylor. In a discussion on pricing of electricity, Mr. Taylor told the Energy Board "that the average family spends a third more on cigarettes than it does on electric power. We do not know that in the last 10 years the price of that power in Ontario has gone up about half the increase in the price of milk and cheese, considerably less than the price of butter and only one-third the rise in the price of bread.

These guides tell us," said the Hydro Chairman, "that electricity is not over-priced or exorbitantly priced in Ontario.

"Perhaps we are more interested in the price to the domestic user," Mr. Taylor told the Energy Board, "because we feel the industrial user can look after himself." He said that Hydro tries to look at the price of electricity as compared to the price of other commodities.

Replying to a suggestion that electric rates be frozen,

Mr. Taylor said such an action would seriously affect Ontario Hydro. He told the hearing that Hydro would be unable to pay for its fuel and reminded the Board that such a proposal would require a change in legislation. The Power Corporation Act gives Hydro's Board of Directors responsibility for setting the utility's wholesale rate.

Energy Board adjourned the hearings on August 22 after hearing evidence from Hydro's Corporate Office of Chairman, President and Vice-Presidents. The hearings will resume September 2 to hear evidence from interveners and the Board staff, along with argument.

Energy Board Chairman, W.W. Stevenson, has said that an interim report will be written for the Minister of Energy in order to meet an August 31 deadline.

Forest fire starts all time high

In the past 10 days, the Ministry of Natural Resources has experienced the largest number of active forest fires in 19 years in Algonquin Region. The latter is comprised of the Districts of Parry Sound, Bracebridge, Minden, Bancroft, Algonquin Park and Pembroke. The district most seriously affected was Parry Sound where 42 fires broke out in the past 10 days.

To date this year Parry Sound district has experienced 145 fires, with better than two months of the fire season remaining.

While not experiencing the same number of fire starts as Parry Sound District, Pembroke district has also been very busy this year with 112 fires to date. The largest and most troublesome fire has been an 1100 acre blaze on the Petawawa military base. Both Parry Sound and Pembroke districts have been employing Beaver, Otter, twin Otter and Canso water bombers with numerous assists from Grumman Tracker Chemical bombers.

The majority of the recent fires have been caused by dry lightning storms, having insufficient rainfall to douse the resultant lightning strikes. Most fires have occurred in remote areas, with many so inaccessible by road or water that helicopters had to be pressed into service.

Weary fire-fighters are hoping for appreciable rains forecast for the week-end to put an end to the current situation. The year 1975 has been one of the driest in two decades, resulting in an all-time record number of forest fire starts.

Haliburton Snowmobile Association holds first dance

The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association's first summertime dance was held August 16th at Medleys Carnarvon Hall. The choice of an August weekend was made primarily to allow more cottager members to enjoy their snowmobile club dance than can ever attend in wintertime.

The occasion, which must be termed very successful, was not entirely free of problems. Two members of the band, the Sun Spots, ran into car trouble on the way up from London, Ontario, and were not on the scene until midnight. Good music was provided in the interim, however, and when this reporter arrived about ten everyone seemed to be having a good time. A special thanks to the musicians, Elmer and Scott Russell, and to singers, Donna Lee McKnight and Peter Robinson. Without these very talented people the evening might have been a real embarrassment. When the Sun Spots finally took over, their Latin rhythms were well received and the dance was carried on until three a.m.

A special mention for the workers of the evening: Ken Bannon, Rob Luke, Kay Wylie, Joe Blair, Steve Berry, Don Cumming, Tom Kirkpatrick, Bob Jennings, Ken and Harry Matin, Muriel and Bud Medley. A thank you note to Club 35, the Stanhope Fire Department for the load of extra tables, and to the Medleys for extending the closing time. Spot dance prize donors were: Minden Marine, Home Hardware, Jadek Sports, Prentice Roads Ltd., McDonalds Esso, and Shamrock Shell Centre. The HCSA gratefully acknowledges all who contributed with goods or services.

This year marked the first time the HCSA entered a float in the summer carnivals. There were three in all, beginning with the Legion carnival in July. Some of the people who worked hard at putting it all together: Ken and Marg Fielding, Barbara Kennedy, Steve Berry, Dennis Casey, Peter and Brigitte Dean, Martin Schroter, Bob Jennings, Brian Hunter, Roy Bates. Signs painted by Kay Wylie and Joe Blair.

Council advises Senior Citizens to vote at advance polls

TORONTO- The Ontario Advisory Councils on the Physically Handicapped and Senior Citizens today jointly urged handicapped and senior citizens to vote at Advance Polls of the September General Election in Ontario.

Advance Polling Booths which will operate on Friday, September 12; Saturday, September 13; and Monday, September 15, shall be, under the Elections Act, located with as easy access as reasonably possible to those in wheelchairs as well as the aged and infirm.

The Councils noted that people in wheelchairs and the elderly could experience difficulties as some polling booths on election day (Thursday, September 18) because some polls are located in basements or second storeys.

Hope Holmsted, Chairman of the Ontario Advisory Council on Senior Citizens, and Edward Dunlop, Chairman of the Ontario Advisory Council on the Physically Handicapped, said some elderly and handicapped persons are not aware that they can vote at the Advance Polls if they feel they would experience difficulty

Hicks family reunion

The ninth Hicks Family Reunion was held at Lochlin Community Centre on Sunday, August 3rd, 1975.

There were ninety-one descendants present ranging in age from two to eighty-seven years.

Registration began at 11 a.m. and at 12:30 all enjoyed the salad dinner after Grace had been offered by Albert Carpenter of Maple Lake.

During the afternoon the children enjoyed games, races, scrambles and a horse drawn hay ride.

The Horseshoe Prizes went to Chic Minaker of Stouffville and Everett Burk of Ingoldsby for Men's. Maureen Scott of Granton and Terri Milburn of Whitby took first prize for ladies Horseshoe, and in the teenagers it was Kevin Newell and Roger Hicks of Lochlin for the boys and Lorraine Gilmore of Scarborough and Cherylin Newell of Lochlin for the girls.

About 3:30 a shower of rain forced us into the hall so the special prizes were awarded them, as follows:-

Oldest Gentleman on Grounds - Moss Minaker, of Lochlin - 77 years old.

Oldest Lady on Grounds - Mildred Herbert of Lochlin who is 87 years old.

There was no child under one year. (would someone care to work on this for next year. This is the second year for no wee one).

Couple coming the farthest were Mr. and Mrs. Ron Loughheed of Windsor, 380 miles.

Wedding Anniversary closest to Jan. 31, was Ted and Joan Austin of Scarborough, Feb. 12.

Birthday closest to Sept. 26 was Greta Northcott - Sept. 23.

Largest family present went to Helen and Al Newton with three children, this was on a draw as there were 5 families of three.

The Reunion will be held on Civic Holiday Sunday next year at Lochlin Community Centre, and will be the Centennial Year of the Hicks Family moving to this area and we hope to set this as our theme for special prizes and events. Anyone with any suggestions please contact Betty Hicks.

Bev. Hicks gave the supper Grace and after another delicious meal each one departed home looking forward to the Reunion in 1976.

New school bus stopping law goes in effect

TORONTO -- The new school bus stopping law announced in late February will go into effect Monday, September 1. Minister of Transportation and Communications John R. Rhodes announced today.

The new law, under Section 120 of The Highway Traffic Act, requires traffic travelling in both directions to halt when a stopped school bus flashes its alternating red signal lights REGARDLESS OF THE POSTED SPEED LIMIT.

Traffic may not proceed until the school bus resumes motion or its red lights -- affixed to both the front and rear of the bus -- stop flashing.

Failure to stop for a school bus with its alternating red signal lights flashing carries a penalty of four driver demerit points and a maximum fine of $100.

Previously, the stop-in-both-directions rule required drivers to stop only when the maximum speed limit was greater than 35 miles per hour.

The new law applies regardless of the posted speed limit -- on highways, country roads, city, town and village streets.

The only exception is on highways divided by a median strip. Then, only vehicles behind the school bus must stop upon seeing the flashing red lights. Oncoming traffic on the opposite side of the median may proceed.

A median strip is a physical barrier or an unpaved strip of ground separating traffic travelling in one direction from traffic travelling in the opposite direction.

With the new September 1st law, each municipality will have the authority to enact by-laws designating local school bus loading zones.

In these loading zones, the school bus driver will not be permitted to flash the vehicle's alternating red lights.

The loading zones will have identifying signs, and can be located only on the same side of the road as a school or non-school facility often visited by school children and teachers -- for example, the Royal Ontario Museum, where many school bus loads of students and teachers arrive from all over the area.

The school bus driver cannot stop a bus to drop off or pick up school children on a road or highway opposite a designated loading zone. And at the zone, the bus must be as close a practicable to the right curb or edge of the roadway.

A school bus is defined, under The Highway Traffic Act, as a bus used for the transportation of children to and from school that: bears on the rear the words DO NOT PASS WHEN SIGNALS FLASHING; carries two red signal lights on the rear and two red signal lights on the front; is painted chrome yellow with black lettering and trim.

No bus other than a school bus may be painted chrome yellow. No motor vehicle other than a school bus may bear the words 'Do not pass when signals flashing' or 'School Bus'.

Tory funds low in Victoria-Haliburton

Although several Ontario Progressive Conservative riding associations have far more money tucked away in trust accounts for such necessities as election campaigns, this doesn't seem to apply at Victoria-Haliburton Riding. According to available information riding Liberals are starting out this campaign with about $1,150, but a spokesman for the Conservatives say they have no funds on hand to report.

Statements filed with the Commission on Election Contributions and Expenses to comply with a new law show many of the Tory ridings, particularly those held by Cabinet ministers, in very sound financial shape.

A total of $905,906. on hand was report by 72 of the 125 Conservative riding associations as of Feb. 13, the date the new law was introduced in the Legislature.

By contrast, 29 Liberal ridings report $44,772. salted away in trust accounts and 14 New Democrat ridings reported $25,150.

Apparently Douglas Kennedy is the most flush of the Tories. Mr. Kennedy is Government whip and MPP for Peel South. The reports list two 'Kennedy dinner funds' containing a total of $24,800.

Other accounts raise the ridings' total trust money to $26,100.

The Oakville Conservative riding association reports $10,864. in trust of James Snow, Minister of Government Services. There are other trust accounts, however, which raise the riding's total to $28,833.

The Scarborough East Conservative association has $11,911. earmarked for its candidate, Margaret Birch, Provincial Secretary for Social Development.

In Burlington, Solicitor-General George Kerr's riding association had $17,168. in trust funds as of Feb. 13.

Labor Minister John Mac-

Beth's new Humber riding association had more than $8,700 in trust accounts and Revenue Minister Arthur Meen's York East Association $8,700.

York North held by Conservative Bill Hodgson had $11,686. on hand and the Conservatives in York Centre, a riding now in Liberal hands, had $10,000.

Treasurer Darcy McKeough's Chatham - Kent Association had $11,400. in trust accounts and five London and area ridings, two held by Cabinet ministers not seeking re-election, had a total of nearly $37,000.

Other associations showing money on hand included Durham E. PC $3,000; NDP $8,050. and Liberals Nil; Duham W. PC $6,116; Hastings - Peterborough PC $123; Liberals Nil.

The lowest of all the Tory riding associations reporting was that of Peel North, to become Brampton after the election. It had $6.35 in trust. Its member is Premier William Davis.

The School Bus Stopping Law changes September 1st.

Here are the new regulations and what they mean to you:

Effective September 1st, all traffic from both directions must stop whenever a chrome-yellow school bus flashes its red signal lights front and rear... regardless of the posted speed limit. (The penalty for not doing so is a maximum fine of $100 and 4 demerit points.)

The law applies everywhere—on highways, country roads, and city, town or village streets.

Until now, motorists going in the opposite direction had to stop only when the posted maximum speed limit was more than 35 miles per hour. But as of September 1st, everyone must stop—except in one instance: motorists going in the opposite direction from the school bus on the other side of a multi-lane highway divided by a physical barrier.

As a motorist, you must drive with extra care whenever you see a school bus in front of you or coming towards you, because if the school bus flashes its red lights, traffic from both directions must stop.

If all of us observe this law our children will be that much safer. Remember, school bus safety is everybody's responsibility.

As a parent, encourage your children to follow the school bus safety rules learned at school—helping the bus driver by behaving quietly and keeping seated until it is time to leave the bus.

Report from Parliament

by William C. Scott,
M.P.

Voters in the present Federal constituency of Victoria-Haliburton will be surprised to learn that under proposals of the electoral boundaries commission, their riding will soon cease to exist. On Tuesday, August 19th, the commission released their proposals for the Province of Ontario which will give the Province a total of 95 members, or 7 more than at present, in the next Federal Election.

However, by reorganizing the Federal Electoral Boundaries, the traditional riding of Victoria-Haliburton has disappeared and its various areas allocated to different neighbouring ridings. The County of Haliburton has been assigned to the riding of Parry Sound - Muskoka which spreads across the Province from Georgian Bay, almost to the Ottawa River. Victoria County is to be part of the new riding of Victoria-Simcoe which will stretch from Bradford to Millbrook.

Rama and Mara Townships, presently in Victoria-Haliburton, will be placed in the riding of Simcoe north but Brock and Thorah would remain with Victoria in the new riding. To the north and north east, the six northern townships of Hastings and the six northern townships of Peterborough County would form part of a new riding of Hastings - Frontenac which would take in an area from Kinmount almost to Kingston. These twelve townships are a present a part of Victoria-Haliburton.

From these new proposals, it would appear that the Commission has ignored the historic and traditional ties between various sections of our present riding. While some of the areas are relative newcomers to the riding, the Counties of Victoria and Haliburton have existed as an Electoral unit for many years. At the time of Confederation in 1867, there were the two ridings of Victoria North and Victoria South. Following the Representation Act of 1903 the two Counties of Victoria and Haliburton became the united electoral unit of Victoria-Haliburton, although for a time it was known simply as Victoria.

More than the traditional heritage of the riding stands to be lost, however, under the new boundary proposals, business, communication and transportation ties are also strong between these two counties, to say nothing of the social and economic attachments, of added concern to the Northern Area is the fact that the name of Haliburton will be lost as a designation of a Federal Riding.

The other areas presently in Victoria-Haliburton as mentioned above, also stand to lose in the new scheme. While those parts of Ontario, Hastings and Peterborough Counties have not been in our Federal District for too great a length of time, nonetheless, their contributions have been great. The residents of these areas have contributed in many ways to the Political Process of the riding, and all Political Parties have benefited from their involvement.

Regardless of affiliation, all Political Parties must have an effective organization, and as in any other endeavour, continuity is a vital aspect, under present Legislation, redistribution will affect our District every ten years and this will result in the shifting of Electoral Boundaries. As a result, individuals and geographical areas are shifted to and from and become pawns in the master plan. This should not be, as we must place a higher value on the worth of individuals and their contributions.

Another shortcoming of the redistribution proposals is that it seems to ignore the fact that there is a slow but steady population growth in our area. Each year more individuals chose this area as their permanent home, and this should be taken into account.

It should be noted that there are provisions for interested parties and individuals who may wish to appeal these proposed changes. The actual hearings will be held in Toronto on October 6th, 1975, but notice of intent to appeal must be sent to the Commission no later than September 9th, such notices should be sent to the Secretary, Brian S. McCool, Federal Electoral Boundaries Commission for Ontario, Room 301, Arthur Meighen Building, 25 St. Clair Ave., East, Toronto, M4T 1M4.

It is highly regrettable that these proposals were released at this time as many individuals have been confused and mistakenly believe that these changes will affect the upcoming Provincial Election. It can not be stressed too strongly that these changes, if approved, will only apply to the Federal Districts and Federal Elections.

Ontario Mortgage Corporation invites loan applications

Ontario Mortgage Corporation is inviting loan applications for the construction, ownership and operation of about 2,000 rental housing units in the province, Housing Minister Donald R. Irvine announced today.

Mr. Irvine said this invitation to developers is another example of the positive action being taken to increase the supply of family rental accommodation in low vacancy areas.

The funds for this call were made available to OMC in the supplementary actions to the 1975 budget last July 7.

OMC is providing first mortgage financing at favorable interest rates to developers wishing to build and operate accommodation for low and moderate income occupants under the Accelerated Rental Housing Program.

Eight per cent loans covering up to 95 per cent of construction costs as determined by OMC are available for projects in municipalities with vacancy rates around two per cent.

In return, borrowers must sign operating agreements that include certain specifications such as a reasonable rate of return on investment, the maximum rent for each unit and the maximum tenant income. These agreements lead to rent stabilization on 75 per cent of the units in a development, with 25 per cent reserved for Ontario Housing Corporation's Rent Supplement Program.

Under rent supplement, families are selected from the local waiting list for assisted housing lease dwellings and pay rent geared to their income, with OHC paying the difference between that rent and the market rent. Operating subsidies are shared 50 per cent by the federal government, 42½ per cent by the province and 7 ½ per cent by the municipality in which the housing is located.

Packages containing detailed information for builders are available from OHC or local housing authority offices in Hamilton, Kingston, Kitchener, London, Niagara Falls, North Bay, Oshawa, Ottawa, Peterborough, St. Catharines, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie, Sudbury and Windsor.

The information may also be obtained from the manager, mortgage underwriting, Ontario Mortgage Corporation, 60 Bloor Street West, Toronto, Ontario M7A2M9 (Tel. 416-965-9245). The deadline for submissions to OMC is 2:00 p.m., September 15, 1975.

Already, said Mr. Irvine, $90 million has been committed through two proposal calls under the Accelerated Rental Housing Program. The further $50 million being made available for this highly successful program represents a further 2,000 units this fiscal year, over and above the 3,700 units from the first two calls, he said.

Mr. Irvine pointed out the last April the province committed $87 million to build 10,600 units of socially assisted housing. When expected federal funding failed to materialize in the most recent federal budget, Ontario committed an additional $80 million to enable the initial target to be met, he said.

The province also joined with Metro Toronto on a call for 1,000 socially assisted senior citizen units. It will pay 42½ per cent of any operating deficit resulting from rent subsidization. Under a previous arrangement, the federal government and Metro shared this cost on a 50-50 basis.

'We are also encouraging private lenders to provide mortgage money for a further 4,000 family units,' said Mr. Irvine.

Under this program, the government provides an interest subsidy to ensure rent stabilization for both low and moderate-income families.

Gems of Truth

'And he left all, rose up, and followed Him'. Luke 5:28.

The man whose biography fits the caption of this article was the tax collector who had given his services to the Roman conquerors of the land of Judea. His Jewish name was Levi, and also Matthew, who became the writer of the first book in the New Testament.

There was no lower order of life in Israel in the eyes of patriotic Jews than the publicans (tax collectors). They were the fifth columnists of their day, working under the iron heel of Rome and collecting taxes and tribute money from the vanquished of their own race Israel. So any other job Matthew accepted would indeed be a step up in the estimation of his own people. He truly 'rose up' when he resigned his despised occupation, but he never dreamed how far he rose that day. Becoming a partner and companion of Jesus, gave him a status every one of God's children delight in. However, not all of them equal the full surrender given by Levi, who became an Apostle, the author of the first Gospel and also part of the foundation of the Church of Christ. Truly, Lévi went up that day when he surrendered his life to the Lord Jesus and followed Him in service, Ephesians 2:20.

In some degree, the experience of every Christian follows this pattern. No man 'steps down' when he accepts Christ as his Saviour, it is upward and Godward. To Levi, it was 'leave all'. And he had plenty to leave! With the legitimate income from his despised career plus the graft he could easily demand, Levi was a rich man and on his way to a great fortune. When he met Jesus, he left this and never a voice of regret is heard. He had found riches uncomparable with earthly treasure.

When Matthew left his job and fortune he also left his friends and kin. It looks like he bade them all farewell when he made a great feast and invited them to meet the Saviour. They must have thought him gone cuckoo as he gave his testimony and announced the decision to leave all and follow the new found Master, Luke 5:27-29. The completeness of his surrender brought to Levi a new and glorious career. "he left all". No doubt this is exactly where many a professing follower of Jesus becomes a failure in Christian living. Simply to relinquish 'some' or 'most' or 'nearly all' paves the way to a limited enjoyment of a Christian life. It is the little things that hinder sweet fellowship with the Lord and His people.

The 'little things' are too numerous to mention but one needs to decide what to do with them. This is what wrecks most of our Godly progress. Should our conscience bother us on some point of lie or habit and we mentally argue with ourself that surely 'that cannot be what He means' then 'that' is probably the very thing that is meant to be given up. Not until Matthew had 'left all' was he on his way up, there was no other way to go. He went all the way with the Lord, half way was not allowed. Yes, there were hungry days, nights with no bed to rest in, because he had 'left all'; but Matthew never wavered and when his Lord arose from the dead, he went abroad to bring to naught the Empire he once served. His zeal and effort has become the pattern for all who 'leave all', 'rise up' and follow Jesus.

Hall's Lake news

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Skene, Cathy and Julie of West Hill are enjoying another holiday at Cherokee.

Mrs. Sally Rose and son Bryan have been holidaying at their cottage on Kushog Lake.

Mrs. Jean Wheeler's two sisters, Mrs. Alverse and Mrs. Barlow have been staying with Mrs. Wheeler for a short visit. They travelled here from Detroit. Mrs. Leola Wheeler and children are also at their cottage.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hunt celebrated their 40th Wedding Anniversary last week. Congratulations to Jean and George!

A happy event took place Saturday evening at Club 35 to celebrate the recent marriage of Mrs. Agnes Elstone to Mr. Norman Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will make their home here at Hall's Lake.

Mr. Grant Montgomery and family celebrated his birthday on Saturday at their attractive cottage on the North Shore.

We enjoyed a lovely boat trip down the length of Lake Kushog one evening last week with Ruth and Archie Neil and little grandson, David Revely. Had no idea there were so many lovely cottages tucked away among the trees and along the shoreline and on our return trip with the lights it was most attractive.

Elections are coming up -- Glen Hodgson, M.P. has been to call, and the enumerators have handed out their election forms 103. Some year our name will be spelled correctly! We've been on the voting list since 1947 and this is only 1975.

A lot of questioning is going on concerning the school tax rate. How many children in Stanhope attend school and how many tax payers are paying what amount? One house holder in business is paying on Commercial, on Business and on Residential -- three tax bills, with the school rate on each of them even though all under one roof. We pay for our own garbage collection, provide our own water, do our own shovelling, etc. People, residents and tourists alike, are getting edgy about the steady increase from year to year.

Took a lady to see some of the nice places to visit the other day and although shee other day, and although she has been coming to this area since she was three or four years of age, she had never seen these spots. We started out seeing St. Stephen's Church, Sir Sam's Inn, The Pioneer Museum in Haliburton, the Hyland Crest Home and Boutique, and St. Paul's Church in Minden. She was quite pleased and impressed with the beauty and interesting features of each of these places.

God crowds have been attending the Euchre Parties at Club 35 which will continue on during the Winter months each Monday evening at 8 p.m.

Miss Sheila Tibbatts and her Mother have enjoyed three good weeks at Loreale Lodge. They live in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flood have spent another vacation at Sinc. Nesbitt's cottage on Boshkung. They came from Hamilton.

Reg. and Harriet Archer of Kitchener are in residence at their cottage and have had their son and daughter in law and their children visiting them.

Nice to see so many folks from Pine Springs at the Party Saturday evening at Club 35. They are taking quite an interest in the events held there.

Dry sunny weather combined with high winds continue to evaporate storage water from the whole system, especially the large surfaces of the Kawartha Lakes. This process has reduced the available storage water to about 53 percent of maximum as of August 21, 1975. The past two weeks have seen a decrease of about 12 percent.

Levels on the Kawartha Lakes are generally near the top of their navigation ranges and flows past Peterborough are still being held in the 500 to 600 cubic feet per second range to conserve water.

On March 6, 1962, Sons of Freedom Doukhobors destroyed important electrical installations in B.C.
